19) Coenagrion puella (Linnaeus 1758) Coenagrionidae Video and photo. A common species, this year more so than the Common Blue Damselfly in this location. They are fascinating to watch but often flighty. College Lake Bucks SP935139 29/6/23

20) Ectobius (Capraiellus) panzeri (Stephens 1835) Blattellidae. When I found this insect I wasn't aware we had native cockroaches. This one was at Porth Joke in Cornwall in a small area of dune. The species is mostly found on the coast of southern England and Wales, but is thought to be spreading inland. Although not flagged as uncommon there are less than 200 records on iRecord. Porth Joke SW772603 2/8/23
